Experiencing God

On retiring one evening my mind turned to some of the men and women I was then sponsoring. They were having difficulty, not with the concept of God, but with the idea of having a personal relationship with God; really experiencing God. How was I to share with them my experience in this area, my strength, and my hope? Upon awakening the next morning I was vividly impressed with an analogy that so aptly described my experience. The impression was so strong, that I was compelled to put it to pen and paper immediately before it faded from my mind.

So, what is it like for me to experience God? Consider this: It can be likened to being a member of a small church choir where the only requirement for membership is a desire to sing. Not having much of a voice, my range is limited. I can't even stay on key, so it's a good thing the entrance requirements are so lax. I would never consider singing solo with accompaniment; and acapella? forget about it. But I am pleased to be a part of something outside myself.

One day the great Pavarotti comes to visit our humble little choir. He enters the choir loft and positions himself directly behind me. At his urging I begin to sing as the musical piece begins. He then tells me to rest my back against his chest and after a few moments he begins to sing also. His voice resonates deeply in my chest and comes effortlessly out of my mouth with a richness and power I have never before experienced, full of vibrato, perfectly on key. I reach every high note with ease, as I have never before dreamed was possible. The experience is utterly exhilarating. I am so pleased. More than that, I am at once elated, honored, and privileged to have experienced the great Pavarotti singing through me.

Anonymous Member of CCFA

Oh what it would be to sing like that always!

Afterward, members from the congregation come forward and exclaim how wonderfully I sang, how they were moved just by listening. They could hear my voice distinctly, and what a wonderful voice it is. They see me in a new light, but as they try to give me credit I feel compelled to tell them, it wasn't me at all! It was the great Pavarotti was singing through me.

Spiritually speaking God does the same thing, expressing himself through me, blessing and benefiting others by doing something for them, or to them through me. The experience for me is profound. I wouldn't think of accepting compliment without giving credit its proper due. God does in me and through me what I can never do for myself. The experiences rocket me into another dimension of existence I never knew existed.

From time to time as I am willing and the occasion arises he visits me again and again, acting through me to touch someone. Each time I share in such an experience I realize myself the bystander, a channel through which God touches another life. But I am quite sure that I have been more blessed than anyone by being able to serve in such a way.

I begin to appreciate that I have to give it away to keep it, that it is more blessed to give than to receive. It instills in me the desire to always be in that place, with God at my back, his spirit resonating through my being, leading me to accomplish things I could never do for myself. Suddenly I realize that I have become a living, walking miracle!.

Thanks to all who contributed their expressions of gratitude for inclusion in this issue of the By The Way

Gratitude Note:

"I am grateful for having found AA and learning a new way of life that I have never experienced before. After 30 years of drinking "living sober" has been a challenge at 10 months of sobriety. Working the steps, meeting and a terrific sponsor have been a blessing I am grateful for."

Gratitude Note:

"Thankful for the nuts at my home group, Into Action, for showing me that sobriety should be fun and always putting a smile on my face!" Kathy G

Gratitude Note:

Grateful people are happy people and those who aren't...aren't!" Edwin S. spoke these words as he carried the message every day to alcoholics still suffering at Charles Street, a men's detox in Southern California. When I first heard this message, I didn't understand the full meaning. But as I progressed in recovery, I began to experience the feeling of appreciation for AA's 12 Steps, our fellowship of the spirit, and the opportunity to be of service.

Gratitude Note:

Roseville Tuesday Night Group: "I think a lot of people in the AA groups around the Sacramento area would love to show an extreme amount of gratitude to Eve Hebauch. She has been a mentor and a person of inspiration to us all. She always welcomes the newcomers and is always their

to listen and lend a helping hand." Teresa Shaunbre

Gratitude Note:

"Gratitude should move forward, rather than backward. In other words, if you carry the message to others, you will be making the best possible repayment for the help given to you." Letter, 1959 One of our promises states we will have a new happiness and a new freedom. Recovery is freedom---the freedom from alcohol and all its baleful consequences. I have been given a gift --- the gift of sobriety. And what I do with my sobriety is my gift to God. As our program suggests, clean house, trust God, and help others...with a full and thankful heart." Kathy K, Serenity Big Book & Step Study

Gratitude Note:

"I'm so grateful for the sobriety of 20 years. I have gained the life I have always wanted to have. My passion is to help others. Amen!"

Gratitude Note:

"That I don't ever have to drink again even if I want to. Peggy Hamilton, Galt Fellowship"

Gratitude Note:

"I truly appreciate the AA Central Office always being available for literature & information. Thank you Central Office!" Stefanie S.

BIRTHDAYS BIRTHDAYS BIRTHDAYS

One way AA members express their gratitude is by sending contributions to Central Office as their sobriety anniversary approaches. If you are so inclined, send a dollar for each year of your sobriety, or whatever you feel you can afford. Your contributions help to keep the doors of our Central Office open so that other alcoholics might find sobriety too. We would like to thank the following for their contributions.

BIRTHDAY CLUB: HAPPY BIRTHDAY! JES Jr. 20yrs, David Y. 28 yrs.

If everyone Celebrating a Birthday in the Month of November gave $1.00 for every year sober, Central Office would have received $3,899.00

November 2004

The Language of the Heart

Why, at this particular point in history, has God chosen to communicate His healing grace to so many of us? Every aspect of this global unfoldment can be related to a single crucial word. The word is "communication." There has been a life-saving communication among ourselves, with the world around us, and with God.

From the beginning, communication in A.A. has been no ordinary transmission of helpful ideas and attitudes. Because of our kinship in suffering, and because our common means of deliverance are effective for ourselves only when constantly carried to others, our channels of contact have always been charged with the language of the heart. Information calls 891

Open Shifts: Saturday 8am – 1pm

To make yourself available for an open shift, place your name on the shift waiting list or the shift substitute list call Central Office, 454-1771, Sobriety requirements for shift volunteers are one year.

At this time Jeannie expressed her frustration and concern about the accuracy of our meeting schedule. Also of grave concern to her is the fact that she has been told, she has no authority to submit corrected information when said information is available to her. Discussion on this subject ensued. Alyce O requested that a group conscience vote be taken. The delegate body unanimously insisted that she does indeed have the authority to submit corrected information for publication in the meeting schedules.

G. Office Operations Committee – Jack F – Present/Report Written

1. Office Manager Selection:

At her request, the starting date for the new Office Manager has been changed to September 18th. The contract has not been signed this writing. We have received a FAX of a signed copy of the proposed contract.

2. Items that remain "tabled":

- a. Overcharges on certain items of literature.
- b. Upgrade of computer system.
- c. Use of cash register for daily transactions.
- d. Use of perpetual inventory feature for re-orders.
- e. Centralized filing system.

3. Need for audit:

In the discussion of the treasurer's report it was realized that there is a need for an audit of the financial transactions of CCFAA. I am referring to the transactions, not the action of the office manager, the treasurer and/or the accountant. In the near future we will have a new person taking responsibility for the operation of our office. An audit will equally protect CCFAA and the new manager.

However, this audit would be of minimal value unless the findings are used to improve the financial structure, operating procedures and reports. Inaccurate accounting produces inaccurate reports. Inaccurate reports lead to bad financial decisions.
