One Day at a Time

I'm blessed to be alive today. I made my mistakes in my past but who hasn't, right? If I ponder on them I get depressed. Then if I worry about things, I'm future trippin and this is usually based on my past experiences anyway. So then I'm wasting the day away, when I can try something new and eventually come out the other side, with a healthier habit and a new perspective this will create a new path for me.

It took me a while to finally surrender to this program of AA, a program of abstinence because I could not imagine never being able to drink again, but today I don't have to look that far, I stay in today and this simple program, the principles that I practice each day has brought me to 9 months of sobriety One Day at A Time. I actually have a life worth living and a whole bunch of AA friends to share it with. I know it works...and I only have to do it One Day at A Time.

It's kind of like starting a new diet or a new workout routine. We are training new muscles, we must practice the simple program of AA, One Day at a Time and know nothing grows overnight. It's almost magical because we've been taught to do it by faith. Then when we start to feel better and look better and with continued practice of the principles in our daily lives we eventually live better. So, then the miracle happens and a person like me, who was once a hopeless alcoholic gains a life worth living, knowing I only have today.

For this I am so grateful and knowing how much I am loved, here, keeps me from that first drink. These immeasurable gifts I have gained One Day at a Time remind me of the reasons I desire not to drink.

So not only have I gained a new life One Day at a Time, but my sponsor, who has taken me through the 12 steps has also rendered me her wisdom of how I should care for myself, take a look at myself in the mirror and allow myself to heal from the pain caused by the ignorance of my once untreated disease of Alcoholism. Alcoholics Anonymous has given me hope and a new beginning and for that I am grateful for practicing the principle of One Day at a Time.

Can't think of a worthy topic to write about? Consider these suggestions as a starting point to your journaling or submit to By The Way!

Writing Prompt:

"No matter what, I don't pick up!"... it's another one of those slogans. It sounds easier said than done, but hey let's give it a try. What are some of the obstacles you faced in sobriety and how did you overcome them? How did you persevere? Submit your story of how you used faith to conquer fear. We would love to hear from YOU!

The Tenth Step

As we work the first nine Steps, we prepare ourselves for the adventure of a new life. But when we approach Step Ten we commence to put our A.A. way of living to practical use, day by day, in fair weather or foul. Then comes the acid test: can we stay sober, keep in emotional balance, and live to good purpose under all conditions? Page 88,

-12 steps and 12 Traditions.

The Tenth Tradition

“Alcoholics Anonymous has no opinion on outside issues; hence the A.A. name ought never be drawn into public controversy.”

No A.A. Group or member should ever, in such a way as to implicate A.A., express any opinion on outside controversial issues – particularly those of politics, alcohol re- form, or sectarian religion. The Alcoholics Anonymous Groups oppose no one. Concerning such matters they can express no views whatever.

Bill W. , A.A. Grapevine, September 1948

The Tenth Concept

“Every service responsibility should be matched by an equal service authority, with the scope of such authority well defined.”

An outstanding characteristic of every good operational structure is that it guarantees harmonious and effective function by relating its several parts and people in such a way that none can doubt what their respective responsibilities and corresponding authorities actually are. Unless these attributes are well defined; unless those holding the final authority are able and willing properly to delegate and maintain a suitable operational authority; unless those holding such delegated authority feel able and willing to use their delegated authority freely as trusted servants; and unless there exists some definite means of interpreting and deciding doubtful situations — then personal clashes, confusion, and ineffectiveness will be inevitable.

Where Money and Spirituality Mix

“Self-support begins with me, because I am part of us — the group. We pay our rent and utility bills, buy coffee, snacks and A.A. literature. We support our central office, our area committee, and our General Service Office. If it were not for those entities, many new people would never discover the miracles of A.A.”

Picnic Chair's Report – Paul G.

First I must apologize for maybe not being able to attend the Delegate meeting. I am working at the Tulare County Fair this weekend.

- The CCFAA Picnic - Aug 20 at Elk Grove Regional Park was a success in many areas. My thanks go out to the volunteers and groups that made it successful. All areas where donations were needed, we seemed to get plenty of help. The raffle, book sale, plant sale bake sale, cake walk, white elephant sale all benefited from the largess of the AA Fellowship and it is appreciated. This included large and small donations from a large TV, tools, down to small items like a single book. In addition, the groups involved in the food operations dug into their own pockets as well as their groups pockets to buy everything that was sold except for the meat itself. Especially thanks to the ball teams who put up $ 200.00 each which helped us cover the cost of the facility. All this ensured that most of the profits would benefit the CCFAA office operations. But the biggest praise goes to the many folks that gave up their day to come out and participate in the event. Without you none of this would be possible. When the funds were all counted, we had around $13,600.00 dollars. Our expenses were around 9,200.00 dollars so around $4,400.00 was raised for the CCFAA operations. This net amount was significantly down from prior years. Two things came into play one we did not push the raffle tickets out to the delegates as we have in past years so the revenue dropped off in this area. The other issue that took a long time to navigate was Elk Grove Park District, due to our attendance numbers, changed our event designation to a special event. Our cost rose from $791.00 dollars in 2022 to $2628.00 in 2023. We would have had the same problem in the Sacramento City Parks. On the bright side our speaker canceled three days out due to his house being in the path of Hilary in LA. We were able to find an able replacement and want to thank Ron Dobin for stepping in. The experiment with the softball complex did not pan out due to field maintenance issues. We will return to the smaller fields next year and lower the registration fee for the teams. In other highlights Betty K's plant booth was a smashing success. Bottom line most attendees enjoyed themselves and had a great time. Thanks to all the people who work so hard to make this event successful and of course thanks for letting me be of service, Greg B.
